

overdrafts and bank charges

If you use your cahoot current account to make payments when:

- you do not have enough money in your account and have not agreed an arranged overdraft with us; or
- the payment takes you over the limit of your arranged overdraft;

you may have to pay charges as a result.

The table on the right gives some examples of our charges for making payments from your account when you haven't enough money.

We developed these examples with our Regulators and leading consumer groups to help you to think about how changing the way you use your account can affect the amount we may charge you.

These examples are meant to show how different actions can result in different charges. They are only examples so you shouldn't see them as actions you might take and charges you might have to pay.

We may not allow you to use your account in the ways shown in the table. You should avoid going into an unarranged overdraft wherever possible and you should contact us if you need help to manage your account.

We could add other charges and interest to your account if you try to make payments when you do not have enough money. For details of all the charges and interest rates for this account, please see the cahoot terms and conditions at cahoot.com

Choose an example in the table which shows how you might manage your current account. If you have recent bank statements, use these to help you choose. Once you have worked out reasons why you might be charged, it could help you to avoid charges in future.

| 6 | A payment from your account takes you into an unarranged overdraft. You are overdrawn for 21 days in a row during the month and you make 12 more payments from the account while you are overdrawn.  | £6*    |
